Local Student Praises VPI

Dennis Wayne Torrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elliott Torrence, Appomattox, and a June graduate of VPI, spoke highly of his training there in a recent interview.

Torrence says, "The academic social and extra - curricula training I've received at VPI has been very rewarding. I'm Proud to have studied under some of the outstanding agricultural leaders in Virginia and feel the training I've received must be of the very best. I only wish I had realized the real importance of learning when I entered four years ago, as I know now.'

Torrence graduated from Appomattox High School. During high school years he was active ... member of SCA, a member of the Beta Club, vice president ... and FFA member, and winner in the FFA state and southern region farm mechanics competition.

At VPI he has continued his extra - curricular activities. He is a member of ODK, Alpha Zeta, the collegiate FFA chapter, cadet captain, a member of Scabbard and Blade, and a distinguished military student.

Torrence was commissioned this June and will spend two years in service. Then he plans to take a master's degree in agriculture and teach vocational agriculture in Virginia.

Winner of Three Scholarships

He received three scholarships during this student days at VPI. These include the South - Douglas scholarship, a state teacher's scholarship, and the Newman scholarship.
